

Dear Resident,

We hope that you had a great week! A few updates before embarking on the Presidents' Day weekend.

06 Stack Water Testing

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, we need to conduct some water testing in the 06 stack at the top of the building to find the source of a leak in a unit. If you live in the 06 stack, you will want to keep your windows and balcony door closed on Tuesday and Wednesday between 10:00 am and 3:00 pm.

Drain Cleaning

Every two years, we clean the kitchen and master bath drain lines from the top down. We are working to schedule that in early to mid-March so that we can focus on the elevator modernization come April.

Weather

We are expecting heavy winds and rain again this weekend. We are going to leave the cushions off the pool furniture over the weekend to prevent them from blowing away. They will be returned next week after the rains.

If I can be of any assistance, please feel free to contact me at any time.

All my best,

Ryan
